

Dr. Lisa Moreno is President of the American Academy of Emergency Medicine and Professor of Emergency Medicine, Director of Research, Diversity, and the Latino Scholars Program at Louisiana State University- New Orleans. Her multiple awards include the SAEM Marcus Martin Leadership Award, Alpha Omega Alpha Medical Professionalism Award, COD Distinguished Educator Award, ADIEM Outstanding Academician Award, AAMC Healthcare Executive Diversity & Inclusion Certificate, and the Order of the IFEM. She is an NIH PRIDE research scholar and the recipient of numerous research grants. Prof. Moreno has over 600 academic presentations, 120 publications, 10 book chapters, and 2 authored textbooks. Her research interests include health equity, violence prevention and treatment, and viral diseases. She has mentored over 350 students, residents, and junior faculty around the world. A global health consultant and educator, she has served in over 25 countries, focusing on the development of research and elimination of healthcare disparities for women, underrepresented groups, and the under-resourced.